

FAITHFUL AND FRUITFUL

“Waiting on God & His Promises”

By Lisa Pak

A 4-part series into the Life of Joseph exploring how God works within our immediate context to form and shape us so that we might know His love, grace, and mercy and be used for His kingdom purpose.

God’s timing is not ours. He is never rushed and He does not cut corners. The difficulty is that we don’t always know what He’s doing while we are waiting for Him to move. Still, we can be sure that He doesn’t waste a single moment. Joseph, while in prison, waits for God to move and, along the way, learns to use the gift of interpreting dreams to serve and help others. And God pulls all the threads together just at the right time.

Discussion Questions:

- How do you think Joseph felt as he was “stuck” in prison without knowing when, if ever, he would get out?
- Why do you think God allows moments of injustice like the one Joseph suffered?
- Why do you think God waits? Why is it hard to wait on God?
- How does waiting form character? What does waiting teach you?
- What are some things we can do to reinforce our faith and trust in God in a season of waiting?
- What are some lessons that we learn from waiting?
